The ProGasm Family of massagers was designed for men with experience in prostate or anal play, who desire fuller and more focused sensations. Larger in size (L x W x H), the ProGasm is surprisingly agile and is our only product with spherical perineum and Kundalini tabs. This new release elevates the ProGasm line to current Trident specifications with a rebalanced head, body, and stem for multi-axial internal movement. These subtle design changes resulted in significantly improved product performance, yielding a device with far more responsiveness that produces sensations of greater intensity and variety with greater ease.
